Designjet 70/90 Series Roll Feed Accessory

HP Q6662A printer roller Printer feeding roller:

Print seamlessly with roll feeder options available from HP. These options allows you to print up to 24 inches in width and 50 feet in length. You can switch between media options without user intervention.

This accessory increases your output options and enables continuous printing on roll media. Complete large-format jobs, including banners, effortlessly on media up to 18 inches (0.46 m) wide and up to 150 feet (45.72 m) long.

Artistic professionals can spend more time creating concepts and less time loading paper into the printer and pasting printed pages together. Simply load the roll feed with the media type that best conveys your concepts and print continuously.

This roll feed accessory includes an automatic cutter that cuts media at the end of each print job, saving busy artistic professionals from the hassle of separating their print jobs manually.
